Gentlemen:

Data Capital has provided computer services to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory for more than 15 years and I am pleased to report that all dealings with Data Capital and Mr. Pete Paine have been conducted in a highly exemplary manner.

Mr. Paine and his staff have always been most helpful in providing the technical support needed to support JPL and their many planetary missions. Data Capital's commitment to providing parts and equipment for a variety of UNIX based systems at JPL is without question a key to the success of these missions.

If you wish further information, please do not hesitate to call me at 818-354-1891

Sincerely,
